- The LAC Chair is to identify a Plenary Session Chair. This person is responsible for organizing the Plenary Session.
- If the symposium proceedings are to be published, the Plenary Session Chair should identify an editor. The editor need not be the Plenary Session Chair. All material for the symposium is to be collected and compiled within three months of the Annual Meeting.
- It is recommended that each plenary session speaker be allotted 30 minutes.
- Guidelines for Disposition of CWSS Funds for Plenary Expenses: The Board of Directors of CWSS will support the development of an engaging Plenary session at the annual meeting through the allocation of funds to partially cover travel expenses of invited speakers. These funds can be used by the Local Arrangements Chair, working in conjunction with the Plenary Session Chair, for expenses incurred in securing speakers. Members of CWSS who agree to present at the annual meeting as a part of the plenary or workshop sessions will not be offered travel funds except in dire emergencies to be determined by the Local Arrangements Chair. An example of such an emergency would be a CWSS member who is a renowned expert in the field of interest but has no source of funds to attend the CWSS meeting in question. No honoraria will be offered to any speaker. No more than three nights lodging will be offered to non-member symposium speakers. All Plenary or workshop speakers who are non-members of CWSS will be offered free registration at the CWSS annual meeting and a free ticket to society events during that week. Reimbursement of some or all travel expenses (travel, meals, and lodging) will be offered to non-member speakers on the basis of need, availability of funds, and the value of the speakers to the program. Local arrangements organizers need to consider travel costs when considering invitations to speakers located far from the meeting site, including foreign speakers. This information should be incorporated into the forecasted and final annual meeting budget that is presented to the Board of Directors.

13.2.10 Undergraduate Sponsorship Program

- The Second Vice-President is responsible for coordinating this event.
- The purpose of this program is to encourage undergraduate students to pursue graduate studies in weed science, to reward exceptional temporary student employees and to expand the CWSS/SCM network.
- Sponsored students will be able to attend the CWSS Plenary Session and Graduate Student Presentations during the annual meeting. This will provide them a great opportunity to hear about significant issues in Weed Science and some of the projects currently being focused on across Canada and to network with graduate students, potential employees and supervisors.

- Any organization who hires undergraduate students such as Crop Protection Companies, Agricultural Research Companies, Universities, Government Departments and Agencies, and others that participate in the Value Chain will be able to sponsor an undergraduate student.
- Sponsors may wish to sponsor a student that has worked for them during the summer or, another undergraduate student enrolled at the university nearest to the annual meeting location.
- Initially each sponsor would be limited to one student, but if the maximum number of sponsors is not met, there may be an opportunity to sponsor additional students, on a first come, first served basis.
- Sponsorship costs will cover transportation and meal costs (breakfast and dinner) for the students – approximately $100 per student. The CWSS/SCM will waive their one day registration fee for the annual meeting, and supply lunch.
- Sponsorship Includes:
 - Transportation between the local university and the annual meeting location. Consideration should be given to chartering a van or small shuttle bus.
 - Breakfast – consider use of a voucher or gift card in the amount of $10 that can be distributed to the students for use at a convenient location (e.g. Tim Horton's).
 - Dinner – consider use of a voucher in the amount of $25 that can be distributed to the students for use at a restaurant near the annual meeting location (e.g. a preloaded debit card). It may be possible to arrange for these in collaboration with the hotel.

13.2.11 Graduate Student Presentations

- Typically Tuesday afternoon.
- Graduate students must have data to present. Presentations consisting of literature reviews or research proposals will not be accepted.
- The LAC Chair is to identify a person responsible for Graduate Student Presentations. This person ensures that all interested graduate students have a time slot to make an oral presentation, develops a program for the session, and ensures graduate student presentations are loaded onto a computer prior to the session.
- The person responsible for the Graduate Student Presentations needs to ensure that a total of three judges are identified in advance of the annual meeting, and that at least one of the judges is fluent in French. It is advisable to have a few alternate judges confirmed in case a substitution is required.

- Consideration should be given to holding concurrent sessions if more than 15 graduate student presentations are submitted. In this event, two sets of judges will be required. Additionally, awards for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place will be presented for each concurrent session; Bayer CropScience will sponsor the 1st place awards for both concurrent sessions and CWSS/SCM will manage the 2nd and 3rd place awards. Should this situation arise, the LAC is advised to communicate with the Board of Directors to ensure all required arrangements are made.
- A sample score sheet for judging the graduate student presentations is found in Appendix IV – Score Sheet for Graduate Student Presentations.

13.2.12 Continuing Education / Professional Development Workshops

- Typically Tuesday morning.
- The LAC Chair is to identify a person responsible for planning and coordinating the workshops. This person has the responsibility to confirm if the workshops qualify for CCA or CCSC continuing education units. If so, then sign-up sheets need to be prepared and made available at the registration desk. Each workshop is to have a chair.
- When selecting the topics for these sessions, consideration should be given to selecting topics that provide for technical training, opportunities for CCA/CCSC CEUs, and graduate student needs and interests.
- The following workshops are likely to be of interest to graduate students and could be rotated through from year to year:
 - Paper publishing
 - Statistics
 - Interview Tips
 - Writing Research Proposals

- One (or both) of the Members-at-Large are in charge of the poster session.
- Posters are typically set up on Monday and remain on display for the duration of the Annual Meeting.
- The Poster Session is often located in the same area as the Commercial Displays and the refreshment breaks.
- A dedicated time slot is scheduled for poster viewing with the authors present, typically Wednesday afternoon.
- LAC needs to ensure that ensure poster boards are available and set up and that a list of posters with pre-assigned places is made. LAC needs to identify a person responsible for the Poster Session. This person coordinates poster judging for the Best Poster Award and needs to identify poster judges and obtain the judging rubric from the Chair of the Scholarships and Awards Committee.
- Judges should be selected to represent academic, extension and industry interests in weed science. Furthermore, there should be a mix of eastern and western judges to account for the wide range of weed issues across the nation. It is highly recommended that at least one of the judges is bilingual.
- Posters generally fall into one of two categories: scientific research or extension.
- The posters are evaluated on content, technical quality of the research, organization, effectiveness and presentation. They should provide, to anyone looking at them, a snapshot of easily accessed, easy to understand information. A sample score sheet is found in Appendix IX

14 PROGRAM SECTIONS

14.1.1 Each Program Section session is scheduled for two hours which represents 8 oral presentations of 12 minutes each with 3 minutes for questions. The schedule will have to be strictly respected because there will be three concurrent sessions at a time, giving participants the opportunity to choose the presentations that they want to attend. The presentation time limit exception is the Industry Updates section (14.1.4).

14.1.2 Members are invited to submit titles for posters and oral presentations and to indicate their preference (oral or poster). Once these titles are in, each Program Section Chair will be sent the list of titles and they will have the task of organising their Programme Section's agenda. If there are too many titles for oral presentations in any given Section, they will have to decide which presentation will be oral and which will be a poster.

14.1.3 The Program Sections are:

- Cereals, oilseeds and pulses

- Strategy updates

Examples of topics that should try to be avoided include:

- Sales pitches
- Very minor changes on label (i.e., language, addition of 1 weed)

Companies who wish to present academic focused content (i.e., new herbicides or active ingredients) would still be encouraged to present in the other research sections.

18.3 CWSS/SCM Photo Contest

SPONSOR: Corteva Agriscience

One (or both) of the Members-at-Large are in charge of the photo contest.

OBJECTIVE: To encourage CWSS/SCM members to hone their photographic skills and to make excellent weed and weed management images available for use by CWSS/SCM members and in CWSS/SCM publications.

Pictures will be judged on their originality, visual quality, subject relevance and impact. The three best photos submitted in each of three categories will be recognized. First, second and third place winning photos will be selected by a panel of judges selected by the Photo Contest Coordinator of the LAC. Judges have discretion to disqualify photos deemed to be inappropriate for the category.

Categories:

There are three main categories that members of CWSS-SCM can submit photos under:

1. Agriculture and Forestry: includes general agriculture and forestry pictures in which an individual botanical subject is not the prime theme of the image. For example: production activities (seeding, spraying, cutting, cropping, etc.), forestry activities or general views (landscapes, sites, etc.). The strongest entries in this category will have an obvious tie to agriculture or forestry, as opposed to just being nice landscapes.
2. Weeds: includes pictures of plants (patches, whole individual or parts) considered as weeds. Images should demonstrate morphologic characteristics and/or weed invasion/competition. For example, weed dispersal, vetch on evergreen, soybean field with common ragweed, resistant vs. susceptible, etc.
3. Research in Action: includes pictures of research activity whether it be in the lab, or in the field.

People's Choice Award: the CWSS-SCM membership will be invited to cast on-line ballots to select an overall People's Choice award from all submitted photos from the three main categories.

Contest Rules:

1. Entries must be digital images in either jpg or gif format. Images must be large enough to produce an 8x10 print (3 megapixels). If using a phone camera, check to ensure that it will produce a file of 3 megapixels or more.

2. Photos can be uploaded through the Annual Meeting registration process, accessed through the CWSS/SCM website. Photos can be uploaded during initial registration for the Annual Meeting and can be changed or uploaded later.
3. If photos are submitted by email, each picture must be identified as:
category_number_name_of_picture_name_of_photographer (e.g.,
2_giant_ragweed_John_Smith.jpg). The filename must not contain spaces; underscores are to be used to separate words in the filename. The name of the picture should help to “tell the story”.
4. Cropping of pictures to improve composition is allowed, but photos should contain the original content only.
5. Members of CWSS/SCM can submit a maximum of 3 pictures per category.
6. Entrants agree to give non-exclusive rights of use of their photos to the CWSS/SCM.

Prizes: 1st place: $100, 2nd place: $50, 3rd place: $25, in each of three categories. $100 for the People’s Choice award.

Appendix XI – CWSS/SCM Social Media Policies.

Policy

This policy provides guidance for member use of social media, which should be broadly understood for purposes of this policy to include blogs, wikis, microblogs, message boards, chat rooms, electronic newsletters, online forums, social networking sites, and other sites and services that permit users to share information with others in a contemporaneous manner.

Procedures

The following principles apply to professional use of social media on behalf of the society by its members, employees, board members and volunteers. This policy also applies to personal use of social media by members of the Executive Committee when referencing the society.

- Members and employees need to know and adhere to the CWSS/SCM Social Media Policy, Manual of Operating Procedures, and Bylaws when using social media in reference to the society.
- Members and employees should be aware of the effect their actions may have on their images, as well as that of the society. The information that employees post or publish may be public information for a long time.
- Members and employees should be aware that the membership, Board and Executive Committee may observe content and information made available through social media. Employees should use their best judgment in posting material that is not inappropriate, harmful or contentious to the society or the membership.
- Although not an exclusive list, some specific examples of prohibited social media conduct include posting commentary, content, or images that are defamatory, pornographic, proprietary, harassing, libelous, or that can create a hostile work environment. Additionally, members should not include personal opinions or assume that their opinions are shared by the entire membership.
- Members or employees are not to publish, post or release any information that is considered confidential or not public. If there are questions about what is considered confidential members should check with the Executive Committee or the Communications Committee.
- Social media networks, blogs and other types of online content sometimes generate press and media attention or legal questions. Members or employees should refer these inquiries to the Executive Committee.
- If members or employees encounter a situation while using social media that threatens to become antagonistic, members should disengage from the dialogue in a polite manner and seek the advice of the Executive Committee.
- Members or employees should get appropriate permission before referring to or posting images of current or former employees, members, vendors or suppliers. Additionally, members and employees should get appropriate permission to use a third party's copyrights, copyrighted material, trademarks, service marks or other intellectual property.
- Members and employees shall not use the Society's social media for personal use or personal gain (i.e. self-promotion, advertising for money, etc.).
- Violation of this policy may result in blocking the member or employee from using the Society's social media, and possible revocation of membership, depending on the severity of the violation.

- While all members are free to reference the Society and dialog about its information and content, official social media releases providing the stance of the Society on issues/topics must be approved by the Executive Committee and/or the Executive Assistant.
- General social media posts by volunteer members and employees should pertain to the Society's activities, member accomplishments, novel weed science news, annual meeting information, and other non-contentious issues, and can occur without approval by the Executive Committee as long as it is within the bounds of the previous clauses.
